Schweizer ERGO-Lux Mobil Pocket Magnifiers

Independent Living Aids now offers high quality magnifiers from Schweizer of Germany. The new handheld magnifiers are available in 11 magnification powers, ranging from 2.5X to 15X, with some of the largest lens sizes available. LED illumination is offered in a bright, natural daylight 6500 Kelvin temperature, providing a bright, high contrast, evenly dispersed light for optimal reading. Two different levels of illumination allow you to find the most comfortable lighting level. To help expand its functionality, the ERGO handheld magnifiers are available in 2 different power sources. The i-mobil wireless, induction charging version requires no batteries and charges as it rests on its included charging pad. Super simple for a visually impaired person to use and charge. The standard battery operated version has the same functionality, but uses 3 AAA batteries, included. Optional, power-specific reading stands can turn either version into a stand magnifier.

Ramble Tag Mobility Aids

The Ramble Tag allows a sighted guide to lead a visually impaired person who is wanting a guiding arm. The cuff wraps around the guide's upper arm. A drop loop off of the cuff gives the guided person a handhold for guiding, without having to physically hold or touch the sighted guide. This allows for close contact guiding, while not having to get too close and may offer a more comfortable way for a stranger to guide a person needing assistance. The Ramble Tag Metro has a tighter loop, which is better for high traffic areas such as public transit. LEFT style would be held by guided person's left hand, while holding a dog or a cane in the right hand. Specify Right or Left.

ALERTING SYSTEMS—SONIC ALERT

HomeAware II Alerting System

IMPROVED

Sonic Alert's HomeAware II alerting system is a complete wireless home alerting system, designed to alert hard of hearing individuals about critical activities in the home, providing 20 different alerts. Different transmitters send a signal to the main receiver, triggering an alert by the 110dB alarm, optional powerful bed shaker and/or flashing bright red 2" LED display. An alert message, in scrolling bright red 2" LED display, notes what activity triggered the alert. The HA360M II is the main receiver and includes voice notifications of alerts, caller ID for both landline and smartphone calls, and a dual alarm clock with adjustable alarms. HomeAware II uses revolutionary TruAlert RF technology with a 1000' range and a mesh network which monitors your system every 3 minutes to ensure all components are communicating with each other. The HomeAware II has an embedded Smoke / CO listener to notify you immediately if your Smoke / CO detector activates.
